

ORGANIZING TO BUILD POWER

IT'S YOUR TIME TO DEMAND BETTER
FOR EDUCATION
WORKERS AND FOR STUDENTS

DID YOU KNOW...

- Over 51% of our members work at least one other job to make ends meet
- More than 84% of CUPE education workers earn less than $50,000 per year. More than 96% earn less than $60,000 per year.
- From 2012 up to the end of 2021 education workers' wages have fallen at least 11% behind inflation. That could grow to over 15% by the end of 2022 in the absence of a wage increase.

THE FIRST STEP TO YOU WINNING

You and your coworkers need to build power on two fronts: at the ballot box in the Provincial election and in bargaining because the next Premier has the power to decide how much funding goes towards education, which will decide your wages and working conditions.

Structured Organizing Conversation (SOC)*

How? SOC* with them.

In order to build the power necessary to win we need to have conversations with all of our coworkers. Reach out and sign up for the "Organizing to build Power in the Education Sector" training on March 26th or March 28th. For more information contact your local or local organizers:

Talk with your coworkers, friends and family as to why you deserve better.
